

معرض أبوظبي الدولي للكتاب
Abu Dhabi International Book Fair

Abu Dhabi International Book Fair

28 March - 2 April 2012

adbookfair.com

Supported by:

Organised by:

كتابKitab

180 events, over 10,000 students from 209 schools, 875 exhibitors from 58 countries, half a million titles on display to 200,000 visitors, more than 2500 guests at the professional and cultural programme of events on offer over the six days. ADIBF is unquestionably an event not to be missed. Join us at the ADIBF 2012 – 'the' marketplace for Arab and International publishers and book lovers!

Successfully delivering a balance between professional development and networking sessions for the publishing industry and the opportunity for the general public to find out more about books, the fair continues to be the region's premier destination for book-lovers.

ADIBF is proud to be celebrating the talent and literary genius in the Arab World at the 2012 book fair. The spotlight will be on Arab publishers as well as leading local personalities. New at the 2012 book fair will be the 'Arab Rights Showcase' featuring the best in new publications in Arabic for which foreign rights are available.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 22nd Abu Dhabi International Book Fair when it returns next spring from 28 March – 2 April 2012!

